Administrative/Biographical History

The Want To Know Club, commonly referred to as WTK, was founded in 1890 by a group of Greeley women dedicated to the study and sharing of knowledge; initially pertaining to current local, state, national, and international conditions, events, and progress, later topics included cultural studies as well.

WTK was the first Woman's Club organized in Greeley, and in 1893, became a member of the General Federation of Women's Clubs. In 1895 the State Federation of Women's Clubs was organized and WTK became a member. WTK Club continues as of the writing of this finding aid in July 2015. Membership is all female and limited to 35 active members. New members are by invitation.

Several of the founding members, including Eliza F. McClellan, known as the club mother, had been part of the earlier, short lived Sorosis Club, and this collection contains a few documents from that club, specifically a meeting minutes book from February to July of 1885. Sorosis met 16 times, and decided at the July 23rd meeting to suspend until cooler weather. The next entry is dated January 21, 1890. At that meeting it was first moved to adopt the constitution of the former Sorosis Club, except for the name, and a new name was sought. According to a letter in the scrapbook, dated January 21, 1890 (no author name), the choice of “Want To Know Club”, or WTK Club was chosen based on a literary character from the book Lady of Aroostook who always “wanted to know.” Members agreed to refer to the club as WTK and to keep the actual name a “profound secret.” When the club adjourned for the summer of 1890 there were 25 members who planned to reconvene the first Tuesday in September.

Initially WTK held annual teas and banquets for which menus and programs exist. The last banquet was held in 1897 as members decided to spend their funds in other ways including contributing to the Library Fund, the Village Improvement Committee, and the Meeker Memorial Fund.

In 1914, the 20th Annual Convention of Colorado Women’s Clubs met in Greeley from Tuesday, October 6, to Friday, October 9. The meeting was hosted jointly by the WTK and Progress Clubs. In 1926 – 1927 the State Federation of Women’s Clubs again held its annual meeting in Greeley at the Little Theater on the campus of Colorado State Teachers College (UNCO), September 15-17.

There are a number of songs associated with the club, including the “Want To Know” song written by Sarah Howard. The tune is to the song “Scatter Seeds of Kindness”, and the words are available from a newspaper article in the scrapbook page for 1890, and in the Roman Tea Program for 1894. There is a reference in the song to a “circle of seven times five” which is likely a reference to the club active membership number. On the loose scrapbook pages from the early scrapbook is a song labeled “Club Song” and dated 1891. The first line: “New occasions teach new duties” is found printed on the annual yearbooks. The lyrics come from the poet James Russell Lowell.
