Biography on Georgia Wier

Georgia Wier is a folklorist and cultural specialist. In 1975 she received her Bachelors of Arts in Fine Arts from the University of Oregon and in 1992 she received her Masters of Arts in Folklore from the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill. She has worked with museums, state arts councils, regional historical and arts organizations, community centers, public schools, and universities as a folklorist helping with projects centered on the culture of the area. Some of the projects included developing community oral history projects, producing festivals and programs, conducting documentary fieldwork, archival research, and writing and managing grants. She has experience working in Colorado, Wyoming, Oregon, Nebraska, South Carolina, and Mississippi. As of 2019 she owns her own business.

Administrative History of the Colorado Council of the Arts

The Colorado Council of the Arts was an agency in the Colorado state government that was responsible for the promotion of arts in the state. In July 2010, the Colorado Council of the Arts merged with Art in Public Places to create the new department Creative Industries Division. They are a division of the Colorado Office of Economic Development and International Trade.

Their goal is to create and maintain a creative economy in Colorado with activities and strategies that will result in the educational advancement, economic growth and improved quality of life in Colorado.
